

HELP FOR THE HYBRID MODEL

Understanding the best way to kick off the 2020-2021 school year is arguably the most difficult challenge an administrator has faced in his or her career. Much has been written on “what” should happen to meet social distancing and capacity needs; however, “how” this information should be implemented is still up in the air. This quick-start guide is a “how-to” to help you create actionable steps to get your students and faculty back into a healthy learning environment. For more information, click here.

READY FOR STUDENTS!

For more help to determine the capacity of your school facility to be ready for hybrid learning, contact JLG Architects:

Dan Miller, AIA, LEED AP
dmiller@jlgarchitects.com | 320.460.0388